During the study at Yale Zhang Lei, worked in the investment office at Yale University (Yale University endowment fund management) work. After graduation, Zhang Lei in the global emerging markets investment funds work over a period of time, is mainly responsible for South Africa, Southeast Asia and China's investment. After that he was appointed as the first chief of New York Stock Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange, created in Hong Kong and Beijing offices. 2005, as the founder Lei create Hillhouse Capital Group.

Zhang Lei is currently serving as Vice Chairman of the Board of Renmin University of China, and the school board, the Yale School of Management Advisory Board, Yale School of Global Affairs Jackson, president of International Affairs and the Advisory Board at Yale University. In addition, he also served as director of the World Economic Forum's financial and capital of the Council, and director of the Brookings Institution.

Hillhouse Capital Management, the scale of $ 30 million, was founded in 2005 under management as of the end of 2014 more than 18 billion US dollars, representing the investment case has Tencent, Jingdong, go, Blue Moon, RT, etc. Zhang Lei in the United States during the work, combined investment experience of major US institutional investors, the formation of a suitable Chinese enterprises independent investment philosophy, so Hillhouse from inception located in the "long-term investors do have an independent investment perspective." . In a Chinese enterprises as the main investment target of years of investment practice, summed up a set Lei further rooted in the Chinese market and the unique value system Heiner Global Perspective.

Lei's investment strategy are:

Ultra-long-term investment - "super long-term investment is my belief and faith are summarized in terms of the first point is to make the fund over the long-term structure of the fund, the second point is the concept of investment companies and investment funds to be completely consistent." As a contemporary Chinese "value investing" in the field practitioner, Zhang Lei recognized that long-term holding, rather than simply the value of the investment. Because Hillhouse is evergreen fund model, can provide long line of capital, and therefore has the ability to support a company ten, twenty, or even thirty years of strategic development.
